Magnificent 18th century chateau and wine estate situated at the banks of Hérault river which once served as a summer residence for one of Napoléon's generals, Château Rieutort is surrounded by 2,5 hectare park and endless vineyards offering calm, serenity and fascinating wines to its guests.

The land here has been cultivated for wine production for centuries. Since 1997, it has been under the expert's eyes of the Nivollet family, owners of Blanville.

The chateau team will invite you to taste the vibrant range of wines after a visit to the winery. You'll learn more about the production methods, the incredible diversity and the best of the Languedoc 'terroirs'.
