Located at the heart of the Hérault valley vineyards, between Gignac and Aniane, this charming wine estate manor house classified as "Monuments historiques" for its authenticity overlooks several terraces and is surrounded by a historical park. The landscaped gardens feature a long driveway bordered by low boxwood hedges as well as the Rieuesssec stream below. In wooded surroundings full of exotic trees as well as hundred -year- old olive trees, the estate also houses an orangerie and the family tomb of the founders of the Gignac canal.

It's here that Marie-Hélène Deltort, the current owner, welcomes you to convey her passion and love for this beautiful place and its vineyard.
