At the foot of the 'Pouget' village in the Hérault, Clos d'Alice is based around equestrian activities and learning, but is also a centre for discovery, with several sporting activities available, such as horseback riding, tree climbing, mountain biking. It also offers young people an opportunity to find out more about themselves and others through community life, creative events and through immersion in the rich environments surrounding the site (river, hill, lake and remains). Holiday stays (ANCV CAF contracted) are aimed mainly at children aged 6 to 9 years and 10 to 13 years for multi-activities, but also includes adolescents of 14 to 18 years, who can experience trail riding, touring and multi-activity roaming.
