On 2 acres with 6 bedrooms, 130 species and 17,000 plants, the Arboretum of Lunel brings together a wide range of varieties of trees and Mediterranean shrubs presented in an original thread: the evolution of Mediterranean plants with small fruits through the ages. Different periods (Paleolithic, Neolithic, Gallo-Roman, medieval, modern and contemporary) are staged to transcribe the best features of their own.

Alone or with a guide of the tourist board, dive into the secrets of this site and discover how cultural and natural heritages merge to tell a story...
